PLAN POLICY OF EFFICIENCY

SPRINGFIELD, ILL., JAN. 17. Economy and efficiency are to be the watchword of the Republican orfect after the organization of that branch of the assembly.

The following joint resolution from the Republican senate steering committee will be offered by Sen-ator H. S. Magill, Republican floor leader, as soon as the organization of the legislature is effected:

Resolved, By the senate, the house of representatives concurring here-in, That in all contested election cases involving seats in either house of the general assembly, a sum not to exceed $500 for attorney's fees be allowed to the sitting member and not to exceed the same amount to a successful contestant, and that no attorney's fees or other expenses shall be allowed to any unsuccessful contestant.

Would Annul Custom.

It has been the practice in past assemblies to make liberal allowances to both contestant and contestee. This fact it is believed by those proposing a reform, has led to many contests which were absolutely without merit and, it is believed, has encouraged the bringing of contests to such an extent that the number is increasing with every assembly. Two years ago in fourteen house contests and two senate contests, the state expended a total of $38,005.76 in attorney fees, clerks, guards, messengers, stenographers, witnesses and a single seat in either branch. some cases the expense ran into large figures. In the contest of Fieldstack versus Hutzler the state allowed $4,909.50 in attorney's fees and in the contest of Eisenmayer versus Rinehart, $4,350.02 was allowed for attorney's fees.

In only a few instances were at torney's fees paid direct to the attorneys appearing in the cases. In nearly every instance the money was drawn by the contestant and the con-

Policy of Efficiency.

The policy of efficiency will be applied to all payroll attaches, according to the promises of members of the Republican steering committee. While it is not possible under the law to apply the regulation civil service test to legislative employes, it is proposed to require an equivalent test which will assure efficiency

Senators will be permitted to submit the names of their favorite candidates for places on the senate payroll as stenographers, clerks and the like, after which it is proposed to submit the applicants to an examination to be given by a board of examiners named by the civil service commission. It is said that considerable abuse of the appointment privilege has occurred at different times in the past, persons being carried on the legislative payrolls as stenographers who had absolutely no knowledge of stenography and were wholly incompetent to render the service which they were engaged. Similar abuses are said to have occurred in other lines of appointment

Springfield has been temporarily deserted by the lawmakers, nearly every member of both branches of the assembly having departed for home to spend the week-end recess.

About the only assemblyman remaining in the city except those who live here is Senator H. S. Magill, new floor leader of the Republicans. Senator Magill and Senator Logan Hay of Springfield are at work on the slate of senate standing committees which will be presented to the senate as the offering of the Republican caucus.

Senators Magill and Hay hope to get the committee question worked cut in time to lay the complete list before the full Republican committee on committees next Tuesday. If approved by the full committee, the matter will then be ready for presentation in the senate.

Have First Chance. Members of the Democratic committee on committees in the senate have made no progress. While they have no definite understanding with the Republican senators, it is acknowledged by both sides that neither can organize without the co-operation of the other, and the Republicans having one the best of the argument in numbers, are to have the first chance at organization. For this reason, the Democratic committee on committees will not attempt to make a committee slate until the Republicans submit their slate. Should the Republican slate prove satisfactory, it is possible the Democratic side will permit the adoption of the same without a fight. But "It will be observed that to the general assembly is committed the high prerogative of deciding the question as to the identity of the persons entitled to exercise the functions of constitutional state officers. It is true that the decision of this question depends, in the first instance, upon the returns which are sealed up and directed to the speak-

Assembly Must Declare Elections. "Until the general assembly finds this fact no one, excepting the executive now in office, has the right to exercise the functions or to discharge the duties of such offices, respectively. Constantinople, Jan. 17 .- The collective note of the powers delivered today to Turkey points out that Turkey, by resisting the advice of the powers will risk finding her capital again brought into the question and the war carried into her Asiatic provinces, dangers from which she must not count on the powers to preserve her.

Besides, the note adds, Turkey eventually will require the moral and material support of the powers to repair the damages of the war and develope her Asiatic provinces and this support will not be accorded unless Turkey defers to the advice of the powers, which was inboth European and Turkey herself. Under these circumstances, the note says, the powers collectively renew ernment to consent to the cession of Adrianople and to leave to the powers the settlement of the question of the Aegean Islands. In return for these concessions the powers will employ their good offices to insure Mussulman interests in Adrianople and see that the mosques and other religious buildings are respected. They also will see, the note says in conclusion that the Aegean question is solved in a manner precluding all menace to the security of Turkey.

WASHINGTON, JAN. 17 .- When to day's session of the senate adjourned, the deadlock between the Democratic and Republican senators over the confirmation of President Taft's appointments was more pronounced that at any previous time No progress was made and there was little effort to confirm any one. Adjournment was taken when it was shown a quorum was not present.

The Democratic senators renewed their proposition for a committee of conference which would represent sides of the chamber, but Republican declined to accept this proposal, be cause, as they pointed out, it would result in favorism to nominations from the states represented by the conferees. On the other hand, the Republicans suggested that they should proceed with the nominations in order with the understanding that when there was objection on the Democratic side the nomination should be passed without action. This was the rucial point of the controversy and the Democrats made known their determination to hold out for the conference committee. To this end they entered upon a general presentation of the points at issue. This was interpreted by the Republicans as a fillbuster, and while they showed aversion to the work, the Democratic senators made little effort to conceal their intention to delay proceedings until their proposals should be ac

In Mr. Frank also Jacksonville greeted sent administration could deal with a friend, and the audience evidently found increased enjoyment in his singing on this occasion. His powerful, well-schooled baritone, rang out with telling force in the more dramatic portions, while it took on a note of pathos and tenderness in the softer phrases. The quartets were done with finish and fire, the blend of the four voices being especially noticeable.

Mr. French conducts with authority and boundless enthusiasm and energy. His nounces were brought out in great variety by his responsive the United States for what it believes

The piano parts for the choruses were done by Mr. Munger, who took the place of Miss Jerauld at short notice. These accompaniments were done with sympathy and remarkable lovliness of tone. The excellent work of the string orchestra with these choruses was particularly noticeable. It added greatly to the effect of the last two numbers.

MRS. LOUISA TAYLOR RUSSELL CALLED BY DEATH

Widow of the Late Robert Russell Passes Away at Our Savior's Hos-pital After Lingering Illness—Funeral Sunday Afternoon,

Friday morning at 7 o'clock, Mrs. Louisa Taylor Russell, widow of the late Robert Russell, died at Savior's hospital. Mrs. Russell had been in failing health for several years and eight weeks ago her condition became more serious and one week ago she was taken to Our Savior's hospital, where she underwent a fourth surgical operation. Since she was taken to the hospital the last time it was known that her condition was quite critical and her death was not unexpected. Mrs. Louisa Taylor Russell, daughter of James H. and Martha

Taylor, was born in the city of Philadelphia and came to Jacksonville in 1872, where she made her home for a while with her sister, Mrs. R. J. Young of West State tsreet. April 6, 1876, Miss Taylor was married to Robert Russell, a prominent merchant of this city. Mr. Russell was an elder in the Central Presbyterian church, of which Mrs. Russell became a member. She was also member of Westminster church. Mrs. Russell's father was a prominent man in Philadelphia, and her mother was a McMackin, a distinguished and prominent family in Philadelphia. She is survived by the following brothers and sisters: Miss Anna Taylor of Philadelphia, Mrs. Rebecca J. Young of this city, Miss Elizabeth A. Taylor, superintendent of the Maine School for the Deaf at Portland, and William and Crawford Taylor of Philadelphia. Her husband died several years ago and she was also preceded in death by one child. The surviving children fol-

Will Accede Proper Power. The Republican idea in the distribution of committee favors is to accede to the Democratic side the power that should go with that party's responsibility. On matters directly affecting the incoming Democratic administration it has been decided to turn over committee control to that party. This includes appropriations, charitable institutions civil service, waterways and kindred matters. But on committees where political lines are sharply drawn it is the intention of the Republicans to assume control. This includes such committees as congressional apportionment, constitutional amend ments, education, elections, judiciary, insurance and the like. It is the intention, too, for the Republicans to retain control of the senate executive committee, which names the special committees created by that

In practically all the standing committees as planned by the Repubican slate-makers, the chairmanship will control, the remainder of the committee being divided equally beween the two parties.

Senator Walter Clyde Jones, Progressive leader in the senate is to be awarded the chairmanship of the PROPOSITION committee on rules. This was the The city council has called a special election for Tuesday, February and in which he is particularly incommittee he headed two years age 4th in order to give the public a terested. Senator Harris, the other Progressive senator, will be given a committee chairmanship, but which one has not been decided upon. It may be the committee on Cook county affairs.

The Republican senators have not decided whether to concede the office of president pro tem to the Democrats or to make fight on floor to retain it. Prospects are they will the will endeavor to elect a Republican. Prospects are that they will endeavor to elect a Republican, on the ground that the democratic parity has the permanent presiding officer of the senate. Should this be of the money collected and it is also the final decision the matter of selecting the Republcan candidate for the honor probably will be put up to the Republican senate caucus. names of Senators Beall, Curtis, Barr Magili, Helm, Cornwell and Johnson have been proposed for the place.

> Make Appeal to Dunne. A number of Democratic members headed toward Chicago instead of their homes when they left the capital. It was the intention of several to see Governor-elect Dunne before the assembly convenes next Tuesday and endeavor to prevail upon him to bring his influence to bear upon the members to end the deadlock. It is generally conceded that the governor elect is the key to unlock the situation and that he can name a candidate who would be elected without further difficulty.

It was stated to day at the attorney general's office that unless a direct request comes from Governor Deneen or other interested official for opinion as to whether the newly elected state officers can be seated without waiting for the General Assembly to canvass the vote, no opinion will e forthcoming.

Governor Deneen had the matter up informally with Assistant Attorney General Woodward yesterday morning, but no specific request for an opinion was made, according to the attorney general's office, and the policy of that office always has been to render opinions only when officially requested to do so.

It is believed that the attorney general's office does not take the contenton raised by Governor-elect Dunne's personal representative, William O'Connell, with much ser-

1613 Dayton St., Chicago, Ill. - "My face was very red and irritated and was covered with pimples. The pimples festered and came to a head. They itched and burned and when I scratched them became sore. I tried soaps and they would not stop the itching and burning of the skin. This lasted for a month or more. At last I tried Cuticura Ointment and Soap. They took out the burning and itching of the skin soothing it very much and giving the relief that the others failed to give me. I used the Cuticura Soap and Ointment about three weeks and was completely cured." (Signed) Miss Clara Mueller, Mar. 16, 1912.

Senate Funds Organization With out Caring for Progressives Difficult.

(The Springfield News) The squelching of Walter Clyde that one a year old should dominate rogressives in the senate, is not prov ing such an easy matter as some of the republicans and democrats in the early stages of their triumph seemed to think it would be.

Difficulties in organization which have caused the postponement of the final try-out until next week are promising to work in favor of the

The fact that the parties are working separately and have made no bi-partisan combine adds to the rouble in settling matters without giving the progressives the balanse of power.

There are several things that the epublicans and democrats appear inable to agree upon. One of them s the election of a president pro tem. The republicans at first were inclined to let the democrats make Walter Y. Manny, president pro tem, but when the members went home last night they were inclined to allow the contest between Senator Barr on the republican side and Senator Manny to go out on the floor for final

It is in these disagreements that the hope of the progressives lies. If the twenty-five republicans support Barr and the twenty-four democrats vote for Manny, the two progressives can have their choice between the candidates and can elect either. It is the same with the committee assignments and other matters which may come on the floor with a strict party vote on each side.

The committee on committees will be back on Monday night and they hope to settle these vexatious questions before the time for the convening of the senate at 5 o'clock Tuesday evening.

But if the progressives are to remain out in the cold, better team work between republicans and democrats is demanded.

Canary That Loves Music of the Flute.

@ 1912, by American Press Association

Many young folks have canary birds as pets and have taught them amusing and cute little tricks. Caparies when gently handled are very amenable to discipline and learn to do in a way some very interesting feats. But a really wonderful little bird is that possessed by Master Cassin, an English boy who plays the flute. When its master plays the bird will fly to him and perch on his fingers, hopping from on to another as the performer manipulates the various keys, all the while accom panying the music with his own swee little song. Frequently Miss Namey Cassin plays an accompaniment to ber brother's flote on the plano, and then the canary seems filled with ecstasy and warbles its sweetest notes. Truly this is a remarkable musical trio-the two children and the feathered per

Boys who are fond of performing tricks in the parlor when company is being entertained will find the piece o fireproof paper quite a mystery making thing. Take a bit of paper-say a sheet of ordinary note paper- and dip it in a strong solution of alum water. Let it dry and repeat process, again drying it. After it has been dipped and dried three or four times press it quickly and gently with a warm frou and place back in the box of stationery. When you decide to show the trick remove the sheet of paper from the box casually, as though it is the same as the other dle. It will not burn. The trick must be performed within a few minutes after the last application of alum wa ter. It can be prepared after the company has arrived, the boy doing so in the kitchen secretly and some member of the family slipping it into the box of stationery for him as be talks to the company about tricks, explaining what he is about to do, etc.

New York, Jan. 17.-Dun's Reiew tomorrow will say: Trade in most important branches continues to show a satisfactory gain over last year in volume of transactions. Business however, while confident, is conservative. A notable develorment is the marked increase in ralroad activity. While track construction is at low ebb, the railroads are, with conspicuous energy, adding to their rolling stock and extending their terminal facilities.

Railroad earning continue large, he record of gross earnings for the first week of January showing a gain of 11.6 per cent-the largest increase in over a year.

The copper trade is the only great ndustry which does not report current improvement. The dry goods market is more active than last year and the shoe trade also improves. The foreign wheat and cotton markets displayed considerable irregularity. Foreign commerce staistics continue to make a remarkable exhibit of expansion in our trade with other countries

Bradstreet's Report. New York, Jan. 17.-Bradstreet's Business is up to the mark, but more or less con rvation is engendered by the dis position of some interests to discuss tariff revision. In the face of this ever-looming fact that trades continue to move at a steady pace.

It is true that new business with the steel mills is not so large as it was, but it is probable that the intake of orders equals shipments. A negative side to industrial matters is furnished by the continued strike of garment workers at New York while only in licensed machines. HEARING COMMENCES IN MOVING PICTURE CASE

Government is Seeking to Dissolve Alleged Trust of Companies Making "Movies."

New York, Jan. 17.-Before Edward Hacker of Philadelphia, sitting as a special examiner by appointment of the United States district court. the taking of testimony has been commenced here in the government's Funds Are More Plentiful for Mer- suit against the so-called motion picture trust. The purpose of the suit is to dissolve the combination on the ground that its existence is in violaier-Business Sentiment is Con-Ition of the Sherman anti-trust law.

The case is regarded by the government as one of the most important anti-trust suits because it brings squarely to issue the relation of the patent laws to the Sherman statute Ten prominent motion picture concerns are accused of combining to monopolize the business through the Motion Picture Patents company, a corporation organized for the purpose of holding patents, and the General Film company.

The marvelous growth of the mo tion picture business in the past de cade and the fact that no village is too smal to have a picture show brings the matter close to the hearts of the people. It is estimated that a sum greatly in excess of $100, 000,000 represents the aggregate investments in the different branches of the business, divided among the manufacturers of came ras, films and exhibiting machines the rental exchanges and the theater

The "Motion Picture Trust" made ts appearance in 1908 at which time there were ten manufacturers or imand 6,000 exhibitors. The keenes competition existed at that time. As a result the manufacturers undertook to combine under the new scheme of patent control. The government charges that in pursuance of this plan the Motion Picture company has incorporated in New Jersey, and to it the manufacturers assigned their their patents, under provisions guaranteeing the companies certain royalties.

From the patents company the manufacturers took back licenses, binding themselves so that only licensed films could be used and then ties of $2 per week were to be collected and no more films were to be sold, but only leased. The allegation is made that under the new plan the prices were gradually increased until at the present time the exhibitor pays more for the rental of a film than he formerly paid to buy it outright.

All rental exchanges are ruquired to enter into the license agreements, with the result that many were driven out of business. The exhibitors were divided among the different exchanges and each exhibitor was required to obtain his entire supply of films from one exchange.

In 1910 the trust started out to monopolize the rental exchange busigregate of $3,757,306,000 as against ness and organized the General Film company, which proceeded to acquire 480,661,000 in the corresponding the business or cancel the license of every rental exchange in the United The list includes the following States except one. It bought out noted and nearly $8,000,000 more time the patents company canceled the licenses and drove out of business about fifty exchanges, with the result that of all the exchanges doing business when the trust was organized four years ago, only one, the Greater New York Film company, survive.

The patents company absolutely controls every branch of the business according to the government's allegations and if an exhibitor's license is cancelled he cannot obtain pictures in the United States. What is claimed to be one of the most in quitous features of the combination is its deadly grip on the motion pic ture theaters. Its power enables i to open or close a theater in any part of the country at will. charge is made that in many of the large cities certain houses enjoy the favoritism of the "trust" because the officers and members of the combine have financial or other interests in them, and that in order that the favored houses may enjoy the began to use of the remedy and limit of profitable business other houses that might interfere with that business have been summarily forced to close their doors. The trial of the government's suit again the "trust" is expected to extend well into President Wilson's administration. After taking testimony here Examiner Hacker will conor the convention of the Illinois duct similar hearings in Chicago tate Dairymen's Association at Philadelphia and several other ci The defense, it is understood will be based wholly upon the claim Hotel St. Nicholas will be the head- that the defendant companies are merely exercising the lawful monopolice of the patent rights.

JOLTED HER DIGNITY.

The Matron, the Mules and a Spectacular Procession.

They tell a story in army circles in Washington, wherein a young matron of much dignity and a string of army mules were the principal actors. It appears that this young woman has quite a regal air, a circumstance that added much to the humor of the situation in which she found herself. Also, it should be added, it is her custom to investigate pretty thoroughly any new phase of life with which she comes in contact. Accordingly, on the occasion of her visit to an army post in the west, she had everything about the post carefully explained to her.

One day, when her host and hostess were out of the house, this young woman thought it well to go to the corral to inspect the army mules. She went among the animals, carefully examining each one.

She happened to wear a costume of very light color that quickly attracted the attention of the animals, which were accustomed, like all army pack mules, to be led by the whitest animal among them. They slowly wobbled their ears as they noticed the unfurled white parasol of their visitor.

The young woman finished her in spection and took her departure. As she left the corral, she heard steps behind her. Glancing back, she saw a mule following her, while all the rest of the animals were falling into line behind their leader.

She was not afraid. Indeed, she deem ed fear quite beneath her dignity. But she was startled, to say the least, and quickened her pace. The mule immediately in her rear increased his pace, too, and marched steadily along with his nose just touching the back of the white parasol

Then it was that the occupants of the long row of officers' quarters were astonished to witness the spectacle of an extremely dignified woman coming up the avenue, at a gait that might be termed a compromise between her dignity and a desire to run, with a string of army mules behind ber, the head of each just touching the tail of the one in front of him. The young woman's steps are said to have exceeded the prescribed army stride by about two feet. Her dignity was decidedly "not on straight." There were about twenty-five mules in the procession .-Youth's Companion.

STILL IN LEAGUE WILL DEBATE AGAINST QUINCY

AND SPRINGFIELD.

Local School is Rounding up Debaters in Anticipation of Contests to Be Heid Last of March-Government Ownership of Railroads to Be Discussed.

Although the original contract drawn up by the Tri-City Debating league, comprising Springfield, Jacksonville and Quincy, expired last year, the league will still be in operation this year, and rules governing the debate in the past two seasons will remain the same. Several days ago Principal W. A. Gore wrote to Springfield and Quincy relative to the debate, and stated that he had recently come to the local institution, and had not as yet learned whether Jacksonville would have two teams in the field this year and also wrote relative to the life of he league and if they still desire to continue the present arrangements. Both schools replied that they were anxious to continue and letters have been sent in rebe a competitive school.

Material Mostly New. Several meetings have already been held relative to the debate and while the material will be practically all new, most of the old debaters having graduated, no little enthusiasm is manifested among the various candidates, and with several weeks yet before the contests will be held the students will have ample time to get their material in shape and details of the debate worked

Preliminary Debate. The preliminary debate will be held January 31 and the finals will be held the following week. Among the candidates are the following: Harlan Williamson, Floyd Williamson, Innis Alkire, Harlan Smith, Ethel Spray, Roland Kiel, Frank Gruenwald, Bess Pyatt, Ruth Chipchase, Ethel Reese, Ordrain Fox, Abner Jackson, Homer Furr, Gladys Uzzel, Public Speaking in Course. According to the proposed aryears at the high school next season, there will be courses in public speaking, coming under the English department and attention will also be paid to the work in the freshmen and sophomore years. This will give all the students a chance to show their ability at platform work and there will also be held a number of inter-class debates. It is probable that if Jacksonville remains in the Tri-City Debating league that some new rules will govern the debating as there are a number of points in which improvement can be made.

Allan F. Ayers is Acting as Receiver for Road in Financial Difficulties-Work in Straightening

Out Affairs is Commended.

The Denver Republican of recent date contains an account of financial Affairs of the Denver, Laramie & Northwestern railroad which Allan F. Ayers formerly of this city and now vice president of the Continental Trust Co., of Denver has been straightening out. A picture of Mr. Ayers is given a prominent place and under it are the following words, "Allan F. Ayers, vice-presione of the company receivers of the Denver, Laramie and Northwestern railroad, to whose efforts are largely due the favorable adjustment of the affairs of the company.

In giving the facts about the road the Republican said, "The Denver, Laramie and Northwestern railroad will be extended at once from Greeley to Severance, a distance of twelve miles and obligations of the company to the amount of $419,000 will be paid as the result of a court order of district Judge Riddle yes-$550.000 receivers certificates. The the Continental Trust Co., and Marshall B. Smith, co-receivers; accepted the resignation of Receiver Smith and appointed H. U. Wallace to succeed him. The Continental Trust Co., represented by Allan F. Ayers, its president, will continue as co-receiver. The compensation of Mr. Smith as co-receiver, had been fixed in New York at a meeting of the bondholders committee at $7,500 and the order for the same was entered by the court. The receivers will use $419,000 of the $550,000 bond issue to pay the company's debts. The remainder will be used to complete the line to Severance. Great credit is due in the negotiations to the Continental Trust Co., which through its vice-president, Allan F. Ayers has bene working continuously since the road went into a receivers hands to place it on a sound financial basis. Through Mr. Ayers' efforts two other syndicates were in the market in addition to the one which purchased the receivers certificates. Under the plan approved by the court Mf. Ayers as representative of the Continental Trust Co., together with Mr. Wallace will have charge of the railroad under the direction of the court."

Mr. Ayers as Jacksonville people know comes of a family of financiers had excellent training here in the bank of F. G. Farrell & Co., and in Denver is succeeding in a splendid way in the important work which is entrusted to him.
